Here are my plans for my sites.

Wilcox: Open House March 2016

Date unknown at this time. Dependent on our call to review and discuss the findings of the phase 1 work. The idea would be to present to the public/tribes the files, data evaluation, and plans for future work based on the data. We were thinking of having a computer available for the public to interact with the files.

Tar Creek: stakeholder meeting February 24, 2016

All day meeting to review and discuss the 'pieces' of the Data Gap process and planning for the Human Health Risk Assessment. The idea is to use this meeting to update and gain additional input from the tribes on process, expectations, and schedule prior to beginning the detailed review required for Data Gap analysis.

I'll discuss our current and perhaps an improved process for identifying future community meetings, but in the meantime please share with me the community meetings that we should be coordinating for February and March. Please have these to me by the end of the week.

Thanks.

Blake I know you are working on a calendar, but do y'all have a rough idea of the sites I need to be most concerned about in the next couple of months? Specifically, I am wondering about planned community meetings. I am also asking the same question of my folks and want to compare level of insight. Thanks.
